A. THE PROGRAMME

1. Programme Objectives

The IMO International Maritime Law Institute (IMLI) offers a specialized post-graduate programme leading to the Degree of Master of Laws (LL.M.) in International Maritime Law. The purpose of the programme is to train legal officers to become specialists in international maritime law. The programme is therefore most suitable for law graduates already working in the maritime field such as a relevant government department, a shipping company, port authority, or other organization concerned with shipping and maritime affairs. However, the programme is also open to any law graduates who intend to pursue their legal careers in the field of maritime law whether in the public or private sectors, whether in practice, administration or in academia. Fifty percent of the places available are reserved for suitably qualified women candidates.

2. Academic Content

The duration of the programme is one academic year, beginning in October and ending in June/July of the following year. The programme is intensive and student achievement is highly competitive. In brief, the programme structure, which is designed to cover all aspects of international maritime law at an advanced post-graduate level, comprises the following:

- Introduction to Public International Law
- Introduction to Shipping Law
- Introduction to Law of the Sea and Humanitarian Law
- Law of the Sea: Specific Regimes I
- Law of the Sea: Specific Regimes II
- Carriage of Goods and Passengers by Sea
- Proprietary Interests in Ships
- Wet Shipping
- Law of Maritime Safety and Security
- Maritime Claims
- Marine Environmental Law
- Maritime Legislation Drafting
- Dissertation

The LL.M. programme structure is contained in Annex 1.

Students attending the LL.M. programme are assessed in accordance with the mode of assessment specified in the LL.M. programme structure (Annex 1). Within each module of the LL.M. programme structure, students will be required to sit for written examinations and submit assignments or make presentations. In addition, each student is required to submit a 10,000 to 15,000-word dissertation, independently researched and supervised by a member of the Institute's Faculty. Each student is also required to submit a maritime legislation drafting project under the supervision of a designated member of the Faculty. Finally, students are expected to attend lectures, seminars, conferences, field trips and other activities organized by the Institute. The Master of Laws – LL.M. – in International Maritime Law Programme Assessment and Examination Regulations are contained in Annex 2.

The LL.M. is exclusively a taught programme. Therefore, attendance at lectures and other academic activities organized by the Institute is compulsory as provided for in the Master of Laws – LL.M. – in International Maritime Law Programme Assessment and Examination Regulations (Annex 2) as well as in the IMLI Guidelines on Student Conduct (Annex 5).

The teaching programme is delivered by the Institute's Faculty that includes professors and lecturers as well as by visiting fellows who are judges of international tribunals and courts, eminent practitioners, and academics of international repute in various fields of maritime law.

The entire programme, including teaching as well as the writing of examinations, dissertations, and other academic projects, is in the English language.

B. ADMISSION REQUIREMENTS AND PROGRAMME FEE

3. Official Nomination

Candidates must be nominated by a Government agency or institution. Such candidates should normally be persons already serving in or intended to be appointed to a Government Ministry or Department concerned with legal, port or shipping affairs, or an organization in the country of the nominating Government involved in these matters.

By submitting an application and nominating a person for studies at the Institute, both the applicant and the nominating authority are confirming that they are aware of the national legislative and/or administrative requirements which have to be met by selected applicants, prior to travelling to the Institute and commencing their studies; that the aforesaid requirements are met for the duration of their studies; and that they will promptly take the actions required to comply with these requirements.

4. Academic Requirements

The basic requirements are:

- (a) a degree in law with a high standing from a recognised university;
- (b) proficiency in the English language: all candidates must be fully proficient in the English language. They should be fully acquainted with the fundamentals of that language; i.e. in reading, writing, listening, comprehension and speaking skills. Candidates who have not studied or made active use of the English language in recent years are STRONGLY advised to refresh their English knowledge PRIOR to their arrival in Malta. They should bear in mind that the study of international maritime law demands a sophisticated knowledge of the English language. Production of evidence of English language proficiency is required. Therefore, as a pre-requisite for admission, the Institute may require candidates to undertake one of the tests for language referred to in Annex 3. Further, the Institute reserves the right to conduct teleconferences with candidates applying to the programme to assess their level of English in order to ensure that they have the command necessary to undertake and successfully complete the LL.M. programme. For more information on a Maritime Legal English Training Course refer to Annex 3; and
- (c) computer competence (at least the ability to use Microsoft Office). Computer competence is essential as students are required to use computers to carry out research and to complete their assignments and academic projects.

5. Programme Fee

Please refer to Annex 4 to find out the programme fee for the forthcoming academic year. The programme fee covers tuition, accommodation provided by the Institute including servicing, water, 600 units of electricity free of charge, cleaning services and use of laundry facilities, a word processing allowance, a photocopying allowance, the cost of posting twenty kilos of books, selected standard text books, use of IT facilities provided by the Institute (printing costs not included) and the cost of insurance (fire, theft, public liability and repatriation in cases of emergency). The programme fee also covers payment to the student by the Institute of a monthly stipend equal to Three Hundred Fifteen Euro (€315). THIS STIPEND IS MEANT TO PROVIDE FOR THE COSTS OF FOOD, LOCAL TRANSPORT AND OTHER NECESSITIES OF THE STUDENT. THE STIPEND IS NOT A SALARY, THEREFORE IT IS EXPECTED THAT STUDENTS CARRYING EMPLOYMENT IN THEIR HOME COUNTRIES CONTINUE TO RECEIVE THEIR SALARY AND THAT THE NOMINATING AUTHORITY WILL CONTINUE TO PAY THE SALARY OF ITS OFFICIALS WHO ARE ASSIGNED TO STUDY AT THE INSTITUTE AND TO PROVIDE, IN PARTICULAR, FOR THE CONTINUATION OF THE INCOME TO SUPPORT THE FAMILIES OF THE STUDENTS REMAINING IN THEIR HOME COUNTRY.

10. Admission

When all the criteria for admission, including clearance and confirmation of financing, have been met, the candidate and the nominating authority shall be notified in writing that the candidate has been selected for admission to the programme.

The Institute must receive from the candidate and his/her nominating authority a confirmation in writing that the candidate is ready to join the programme and meet any financial expenses relating thereto, whereupon the candidate will be admitted to the programme.

Candidates who have been awarded a fellowship, will also be required to pay a refundable deposit of Euro 500 within the deadline stipulated by the Institute. Said deposit will be returned to the candidate on completion of studies at IMLI.

Candidates who have been awarded a fellowship, will further be required to submit to the Institute a letter from their nominating authority confirming that the authority will cover all costs in case of an emergency repatriation to the home country.

Considering that the International Maritime Organization awards fellowships to build national capacity in the countries, the nominating authority of the candidate to whom such fellowship is awarded is requested to confirm in writing that the candidate will continue to be employed by it following the candidate's return from IMLI. Candidates and nominating authorities shall ensure strict compliance with this proviso as the fellowship awarded is subject to the fulfilment of this condition.

Candidates who are offered an IMO fellowship should note that the fellowship is strictly personal, non-transferable and to be utilised for the academic year it was awarded for. Under exceptional circumstances, IMO may agree to carry over a fellowship. Consideration will however be made on a case-by-case basis and the decision rests with IMO.

D. JOINING THE INSTITUTE

11. Travel

Whatever the source of funding for the programme fee, candidates are reminded that the programme fee does not cover travel expenses. Travel arrangements will have to be arranged and settled by the participants and/or their nominating authorities. Upon being advised that the candidate has been selected for admission to the programme, the Institute must receive from the candidate and his/her nominating authority a confirmation in writing that the candidate, subject to any visa requirements, is ready to join the programme.

Selected candidates will be required to arrive at the Institute prior to the commencement of the academic year, and in case they are unable to do so, for whatever reasons, they should inform the Institute as soon as possible and withdraw their applications. However, candidates are advised to make their travel arrangements to ensure that their arrival at the Institute is not earlier than one week before the commencement of the programme. Information on the starting date of the forthcoming programme can be found in Annex 4.

In view of the fact that a three-day field trip to London may be organized at the end of the academic year, participants are advised to arrange for their return ticket with Air Malta via London Heathrow Airport, leaving departure dates and the exact stop-over period in London open pending final booking, which may be effected in Malta. This would avoid the candidate and/or nominating authority incurring unnecessary expenses. Should the candidate need an entry visa for the United Kingdom, the Institute will assist in order to obtain the same when in Malta. However, the cost of the visa is to be paid by the candidate.¹

Candidates admitted to the programme are requested to communicate their confirmed travel details to the Institute as soon as possible so that arrangements can be made prior to their arrival, including arrangements for pick-up from the airport. If taking a taxi, students should give the following address:

IMO International Maritime Law Institute
University of Malta Campus
Msida

12. Visa

Candidates admitted to the programme are requested to arrange for a visa, if this is required, for their entry to Malta. Malta is a member of the European Schengen Agreement. Therefore, the Institute cannot procure visas on behalf of admitted candidates. For more information relating to visa requirements and where to apply please visit the website of the Malta Ministry for Home Affairs and National Security at <https://identitymalta.com/visas/>. The Institute may assist in providing the admitted candidates with the relevant information relating to the Embassy they need to approach.

13. Families and Dependants

Candidates admitted to the programme are not expected to bring their families or dependants with them to the Institute and are strongly advised not to do so. The residential facilities at the Institute are not intended for occupancy by the members of the families of students. If students nevertheless do decide to bring dependants with them, they themselves have to arrange at their own expense suitable accommodation outside the Institute (see paragraph 20 below). The Institute must be notified in advance of the intention to bring dependants. No arrangements can be made for them by IMLI.

14. Books and Other Instructional Material

Students shall be provided with a selected number of textbooks and other instructional material as determined by the Institute. On completion of study, arrangements will be made for sending 20 kilos of such material to the student's home country by sea transport, if this is necessary.

As part of the programme, each student is required to write a dissertation of 10,000 to 15,000 words on a topic of their choice, approved by the Faculty. The topic selected by each student should relate to some aspect of the programme, but it is expected that it will also be relevant to the student's own country or region. Students are therefore encouraged to bring with them any materials that would be useful for such purpose, in particular any domestic textbook concerning public or private maritime law.

Students are also required to undertake a drafting project related to maritime legislation. It would be useful if students brought with them copies of ALL NATIONAL LEGISLATION RELATING TO MARITIME LAW covering topics such as marine pollution, ports and harbours, commercial maritime law, as well as the Constitution of their country. Furthermore, students are advised to bring with them a copy of any law relating to the incorporation of international legal instruments regarding maritime law into their domestic law, as well as any law or material governing legislative drafting within their jurisdiction, such as an Interpretation Act. It would be much appreciated if such materials are then donated to the IMLI Library for consultation and use by future students. In this way, the Library can build up a comprehensive collection of maritime legislation.

It would also be useful for the student to have a contact person within his/her jurisdiction who would be willing to provide him/her with any material as required during his/her stay at the Institute.

15. IMLI Guidelines on Student Conduct

Student life at the Institute is governed by the IMLI Guidelines on Student Conduct, a copy of which is attached hereto as Annex 5. BY APPLYING TO THE INSTITUTE, CANDIDATES UNDERTAKE TO COMPLY STRICTLY WITH THE IMLI GUIDELINES ON STUDENT CONDUCT SHOULD THEY BE ADMITTED TO THE PROGRAMME.

16. Location

The Institute is located within the campus of the University of Malta in Tal-Qroqq, Msida. Local buses are available on the main road outside the University gates. There are a number of shops, cafes, convenience stores, bookstores, and other establishments within walking distance of the University.

E. FACILITIES AND AMENITIES PROVIDED TO STUDENTS AT THE INSTITUTE

17. Library

The Institute has a well-equipped international maritime law library. Students also have access to the Library of the University of Malta.

18. ICT Facilities

Students may avail themselves of the Institute's Student ICT facilities in accordance with the IMLI Regulatory Framework on ICT matters.

19. Monthly Stipend

Students are given a monthly stipend in Euro currency to cover costs of food, local transport and other basic necessities. The stipend is provided in addition to accommodation and related facilities. The current stipend is Three Hundred Fifteen Euro (€315) per month calculated on a pro-rata system based on the number of instruction days in one month. The stipend is paid in arrears on the last Thursday of each month. The first stipend is therefore paid towards the end of October. In this respect, students should make sure that they have enough money to cover their living expenses during the first month of their studies.

THE STIPEND IS NOT A SALARY, THEREFORE IT IS EXPECTED THAT THE NOMINATING AUTHORITY WILL CONTINUE TO PAY THE SALARY OF ITS OFFICIALS WHO ARE ASSIGNED TO STUDY AT THE INSTITUTE, AND TO PROVIDE IN PARTICULAR FOR THE CONTINUATION OF INCOME TO SUPPORT THE FAMILIES OF THE STUDENTS REMAINING IN THEIR HOME COUNTRY.

20. Accommodation

Each student is assigned a furnished flat on the Institute's premises. Once all the flats in the Institute's premises are allocated, other students may be assigned flats near the Institute/University. The flats contain kitchen facilities and a private bathroom; cooking utensils, dishes, cutlery and linen are provided. The accommodation is suitable only for single occupancy. Consequently, dependants or family members are not generally permitted to reside in the accommodation provided on the premises. In some cases, a student may be assigned accommodation in shared flats. Students are expected to stay in the accommodation provided.

21. Health Care

Students are required to have a health insurance for the whole duration of their stay in Malta with cover for hospital care and COVID-19 related medical issues. Evidence of this insurance will be required by the relevant Embassy when the student applies for an entry visa and in Malta to obtain a study residence permit. Should students find difficulty in obtaining insurance which cover extends for the whole duration of their stay in Malta, the Institute can assist in obtaining locally the required health insurance when the student arrives in Malta. The cost of the insurance is to be borne by the student. All documentation relating to the insurance needs to be either issued in the English language or translated into the English language.

22. Cafeteria

Cafeteria facilities are available at lunchtime at the University of Malta where a relatively inexpensive meal can be obtained. For other meals, students are expected to cater for themselves or eat out.

23. Laundry

The Institute is equipped with washing machines and tumble dryers which are available for use by students who live in the IMLI accommodation (see paragraph 20 above). For dry cleaning services, students may, at their own expense, avail themselves of commercial laundry facilities outside the University.

24. Telecommunications

Flats on the Institute's premises are equipped with telephone sets. It is not possible to make any outgoing calls from the telephone sets in the flats. The telephone sets however have been programmed to allow the student to dial emergency numbers. Students however may receive calls directly in their flats by asking prospective callers to dial 2131 9343 or 2131 0816 and the relevant extension number. The country code for Malta is +356.

25. Recreational Facilities

There is a students' Common Room on the Institute's premises equipped with television, video player, recreational reading material, and personal computers with internet connection. Students may be assigned certain duties relating to their academic and residential life at the Institute. Students can also use the available facilities of the University of Malta, which include some sports facilities (some facilities may be used at a cost).

Title of the Module	INTRODUCTION TO LAW OF THE SEA AND HUMANITARIAN LAW
Module Description	The delivery of this module is important as it is closely connected to the modules of public international law and the law of maritime safety and security. The module introduces participants to the intricacies of the law of the sea. It commences by analysing the genesis and historic development of the law of the sea and explores its basic elements. The module encompasses a review of the international regimes regulating State activities in the following maritime zones: internal waters, territorial sea, contiguous zone, continental shelf, and the exclusive economic zone. The module then provides an introduction to humanitarian law and the protection of human rights at sea taking as a starting point the Universal Declaration on Human Rights and other Declarations on this area. Regarding seafarers, it has been said that seafarers have always had rights but rarely have been treated fairly. In fact, the fair treatment of seafarers has been for some time subject to debate in international fora. A Joint IMO/ILO Ad Hoc Expert Working Group on the Fair Treatment of Seafarers has been working hard to develop rules in this field. Seafarers have been often subject to abuse and it is therefore imperative to understand maritime labour law to draw a line between decent employment conditions and abuse of human rights. A discussion, therefore, is undertaken on the different maritime labour standards and the Maritime Labour Convention. Similarly, bearing in mind that crew fatigue is considered a key factor that may lead to maritime casualties, watchkeeping of seafarers is paramount and therefore an understanding of the relevant international rules comes to the fore. The module thus addresses the International Convention on Standards of Training, Certification and Watchkeeping of Seafarers and other international instruments that may prevent seafarers from being overworked. Another area of importance in this field is the protection of the human rights of persons other than seafarers. These persons may include stowaways, persons rescued at sea as well as those who have been subject to modern-day slavery. Furthermore, the module takes also into account the need to respect the human rights of those who in one way or another are involved in maritime crimes. Whilst there are rules governing maritime piracy there is no legal regime regulating the treatment of captured child pirates. This unfortunate phenomenon continues to grow particularly due to the lack of such a legal framework. Migrant smuggling by sea also receives particular attention as does the legal status and the protection of the human rights of refugees.

Module Description	The delivery of this module is important as it is closely connected to the module of introduction to the law of the sea and humanitarian law. The module examines special regimes of the law of the sea. Further to the study of the maritime zones, this module discusses the regime applicable to access to ports, as well as flag, coastal and port State jurisdiction over foreign vessels (including civil and criminal jurisdiction). The focus is then placed on the regimes regulating enclosed and semi-enclosed seas, international straits, islands, and archipelagic States. Students are also introduced to the regulations governing the Arctic and Antarctic regions. A discussion is also held regarding the rights of land-locked States and geographically disadvantaged States and the protection of underwater cultural heritage. An important part of the module deals with the common heritage of mankind regime under international law which governs all activities connected with the exploration and exploitation of mineral resources found beyond the limits of national jurisdiction. The module concludes with a study of other areas such as marine scientific research and the transfer of marine technology.

Title of the Module	PROPRIETARY INTERESTS IN SHIPS
Module Description	The module of Proprietary Interests in Ships tackles important aspects of contracts concluded in the shipping industry that relate to the acquisition of ships and their availability as security for maritime claims that arise during their operation. Therefore, the module's delivery is very important as it is closely related to the modules of introduction to shipping law (especially law of contracts and law of property), wet shipping (especially claims arising out of the services of towage, pilotage, salvage etc.), and maritime claims (especially the aspects of marine insurance and enforcement of maritime claims). The first part of this module addresses the acquisition of new and second-hand tonnage. A detailed analysis of the main standard form agreements for such acquisitions in the light of principles of comparative contract law is also undertaken. The second part of the module deals with security interests in ships. The concepts of ship mortgages and hypothecs are discussed on a comparative basis, as are the notions of maritime liens and privileges. The module also offers an in-depth analysis of the prevailing international conventions on these subjects. The module then examines the concepts of nationality, registration and ownership of ships in light of international conventions and State practice.

Title of the Module	WET SHIPPING
Module Description	Considering that wet shipping covers the areas of towage and maritime pilotage as well as all aspects of shipping law that may arise from maritime casualties such as collisions, general average, salvage and wreck removal, this module is particularly important, especially when one considers how closely it is connected to the modules of introduction to shipping law, carriage of goods and passengers by sea, proprietary interests in ships, law of maritime safety and security and maritime claims. The module explores the legal intricacies of maritime pilotage. It examines issues as: who is a pilot? what is compulsory pilotage? The relationship between the pilot and the master of the vessel, as well as the respective liabilities of the pilot, master and shipowner for damage caused during a pilotage operation. The module studies the law of pilotage from a comparative law standpoint taking into consideration different jurisdictions. The module also covers the law of towage. In so doing, it defines maritime towage and its relation to salvage. It dwells on the making and construction of towage contracts and discusses in detail the obligations between tug and tow. Consideration is given to navigation issues such as collisions between tug and tow and the distribution of any liabilities arising therefrom. The module then addresses the law of salvage and wreck, both

	of which are studied from international and national law perspectives. A detailed discussion is undertaken on the 1989 International Convention on Salvage and recent initiatives on the subject. The Lloyd's Open Form of Salvage Agreement, which is a commonly used standard contract form, is also analyzed. This module also includes a discussion on the duties and liabilities regarding the identification, marking and removal of wrecks in light of the Nairobi International Convention on the Removal of Wrecks, 2007. The law of general average is also discussed in detail taking into account the different versions of the York-Antwerp Rules and practice. Finally, the module focuses on the law of marine collisions and other casualties relating to hull and machinery. This component of the module focuses on the international application of navigational rules, particularly those for the prevention of collisions at sea. The principles of tortious liability in collisions at sea are discussed from a comparative viewpoint and in the light of decided cases. A discussion of Vessel Traffic Separation Schemes is also undertaken.

Title of the Module	LAW OF MARITIME SAFETY AND SECURITY
Module Description	The delivery of this module is paramount to ensure safe and secure oceans. The module is closely connected to the modules of introduction to shipping law, carriage of goods and passengers by sea, proprietary interests in ships, wet shipping, and maritime

	claims. The first component of this module deals with maritime safety and examines the wide array of rules designed to achieve higher standards of safety in shipping. This component discusses the main international instruments in the field, particularly those of the International Maritime Organization. In considering the implementation of safety standards, this component discusses the role of classification societies, as well as States and other actors. The second component of this module deals with a comprehensive study of the international law relating to maritime security. A general historical overview of the development of this part of the law is provided. This component examines the main international instruments on international maritime security law including the United Nations Convention on the Law of the Sea as well as other more detailed international instruments on the subject. The legal framework to combat the crimes of piracy, hijacking and armed robbery at sea is discussed in detail, as is to combat other security threats such as maritime terrorism, trafficking of persons, illicit drugs and arms. This component studies the rules prescribed by the United Nations Convention on the Law of the Sea on the prohibition of the transport of slaves, unauthorized broadcasting from the high seas, the right of visit and the right of hot pursuit. The international instruments adopted to suppress unlawful acts against the safety of maritime navigation and to provide security in the ship-port interface are given particular emphasis.

Title of the Module	MARITIME CLAIMS
Module Description	This module is closely connected to the modules of introduction to shipping law, carriage of goods and passengers by sea, proprietary interest in ships, and wet shipping. This module focuses on three main areas of shipping law, which are intimately linked to maritime claims, namely limitation of liability for maritime claims, enforcement of maritime claims and the law of marine insurance. The component on limitation of liability discusses the right to limit liability for maritime claims, including the historical basis of the right since the early codification of the subject in the different legal systems and early international conventions. Particular emphasis is placed on the provisions of the 1976 Convention on Limitation of Liability for Maritime Claims (LLMC Convention) as well as on the 1996 Protocol thereto and recent developments on the subject. The interrelation of the global limitation conventions with particular liability regimes is addressed in detail. The second component of this module covers ship arrest and other means of enforcement of maritime claims. It is particularly oriented towards a discussion of the provisions of the 1952 and 1999 International Conventions on the Arrest of Ships. A discussion of the grounds for the arrest of ships and of the manner of procedure in such cases is carried out in the light of the aforesaid conventions and on a comparative basis taking into consideration different jurisdictions. The third component of this module deals with the law of marine insurance. This component offers an in-depth and comprehensive

Title of the Module	MARINE ENVIRONMENTAL LAW
Module	The delivery of this module is of paramount importance considering the IMO's mission of safe and secure shipping on clean oceans. The lectures deal in-depth with the issues of most fundamental importance in the contemporary world, namely how to protect the marine environment from pollution from ships, pollution from dumping, pollution from land-based sources, pollution from seabed activities and pollution from or through air. In explaining these types of pollution various conventions concluded under the auspices of the IMO (such as MARPOL and the 1972 London Convention) and soft law documents are analyzed. The module also includes discussions on the conventions relating to pollution incident preparedness, response and cooperation, placing emphasis on the relevance of regional cooperation. The module then concludes with a detailed analysis of issues of liability and compensation for pollution damage.
