1.2 About Tongji and IESD

1) About Tongji

Tongji University ranks A+ in the discipline of Environment according to the recent evaluation by the Chinese Ministry of Education. Among the 155 universities that were evaluated only 2 other universities ranked A+. According to 2021 Global Ranking of Academic Subjects, Environmental Science and Engineering at Tongji University ranks 32nd in the world. Tongji University is one of the leading universities in China under direct administration of Ministry of Education, listed on "Project 985" and "Project 211". With a history of over a century, Tongji has valued the balanced development of four functions, namely education, research, outreach, and culture inheritance and innovation.

The history of Tongji can be traced back to 1907 when German Medical School was founded by Erich Paulun, a German doctor in Shanghai. After being renamed Tongji German Medical School in the following year, it was formally established as a university in 1923. It became National Tongji University in 1927, one of the seven earliest national universities of China. Around 1949, Tongji already boasted five colleges of natural sciences, engineering, medical science, liberal arts and law, and enjoyed a fine reputation as a comprehensive university both home and abroad. Following a nationwide campaign of restructuring universities in 1952, Tongji became an engineering-intensive university with top-notch strength in civil engineering and architecture, which is second to none in terms of scale and number of disciplines. Since 1978, "two transforms" were launched, namely, the transforming to an international university by restoring links to Germany, and the transforming from a university focusing mainly on civil engineering to multi-disciplinary engineering university. In 1995, Tongji declared to be Academic Education Programs Sponsored by Ministry of Commerce of PRC jointly built by the Ministry of Education and the Shanghai Municipal Government. By 2007 when it was celebrating its centennial, Tongji had become a comprehensive, international, research-oriented university with distinct features and global influence. In 2013, the university proposed its vision of "a sustainability-oriented, world-class university".

Aiming to grow with China and serve the world with science and technology, the University has long focused on unleashing the spillover effect of its flagship disciplines for the greater public good, and actively contributing to the economic and social development at the national and regional level. The University has always taken an active role in expanding international cooperation. With close historical ties with Germany, it partners mainly with European universities but is also actively expanding its influence to North America, Asia, and Africa. So far, it has established 12 international cooperation platforms in partnership with Germany, France, Italy, Finland, Spain, and United Nations agencies. The University has also signed a memorandum of understanding with over 200 international universities and co-founded research centers with Volkswagen, Siemens, Bayer, IBM, and many other multinational enterprises. The University initiated the "China Green Academic Education Programs Sponsored by Ministry of Commerce of PRC University Network (CGUN)" and the "International Green Campus Alliance (IGCA)", and acted as the first President. It was also elected as the League President of Global Universities Partnership on Environment for Sustainability (GUPES) under the United Nations Environment Programme and became the first Asian university to win the "Excellence in Campus Award" at the meeting organized by International Sustainable Campus Network.

2) About CESE and IESD

The College of Environmental Science and Engineering (CESE) at Tongji University was one of the earliest established colleges dedicated to environmental education and research in China. Its predecessor was the Department of Health Engineering established in 1952 and later the Department of Environmental Engineering established in 1978. Currently, CESE comprises three specialty branches: Environmental Engineering, Municipal Engineering (Water Supply and Sewerage Engineering), and Environmental Science, all with undergraduate, master, doctoral, and postdoctoral programs.

UNEP-Tongji Institute of Environment for Sustainable Development (IESD) was jointly established by UNEP and Tongji University on May 9, 2002 upon the signing of the Letter of Agreement between Dr. Klaus Töpfer, then UN Under-Secretary-General and UNEP Executive Director, and Prof. Qidi Wu, then President of Tongji University, in the College of Environmental Science and Engineering. At the 2014 IESD Board Meeting, the Board decided to elevate IESD to its next level, as a global think-tank for UNEP in promoting sustainable development education and capacity building, research on the environmental and urban development issues.

IESD's achievements are based on the guidance and support of UNEP, Chinese relevant Ministries, Shanghai municipal government,

Academic Education Programs Sponsored by Ministry of Commerce of PRC international and domestic organizations. IESD mobilizes resources from its stakeholders and is leading efforts for a sustainability-oriented university at Tongji University, with a green campus, inter-disciplinary education and integrating sustainable development into higher education and social service. From 2004 to 2024, IESD has organized around 50 international and domestic training programs, seminars and training, attracting 5,000+ participants from all over the world. IESD have recruited 784 students from 114 countries and regions (including China) since 2006.

In 2012, the Global Universities Partnership on Environment and Sustainability (GUPES) was launched by IESD in the lead-up to the Rio+20 Summit. Professor WU Jiang, Vice President of Tongji University and Dean of IESD, was elected as the Chair of GUPES. GUPES provides a global platform for Universities to mainstream environment and sustainable development into higher education, to incorporate sustainable development concepts and best practices in higher education, and to train technical and management personnel, particularly for developing countries. It also provides Universities the opportunity to benefit for Academic Education Programs Sponsored by Ministry of Commerce of PRC UNEP's knowledge base on environmental and sustainable issues. Over 560 Universities are currently part of the growing GUPES network.

IESD also conducts interdisciplinary research and promotes know-how transfer to developing countries through technology cooperation. Working together with UNEP, IESD implemented the Chongming Eco-island Evaluation Report and assisted UNEP's assessment of Shanghai's efforts to organize an environmentally friendly Expo 2010.

IESD also launched the Chinese version of UNEP's Green Economy Report. Since 2012, IESD translated a series of UNEP's flagship publications into Chinese.In collaboration with UN-Habitat, Tongji launched the publication of Net Zero Carbon Village Planning Guidelines for the Yangtze River Delta Region in China in the first UN-Habitat Assembly and Making Cities Sustainable through Rehabilitating through Polluted Urban Rivers during the fourth United Nations Environment Assembly (UNEA-4). IESD also participated in drafting the UNEP flagship report Global Environmental Outlook for Youth, Asia and Pacific.

The China Meteorological Administration (CMA) and Tongji University signed an agreement to initiate overall collaboration on capacity building, disciplinary development, research, talent cultivation on climate change, technology transfer and resources sharing. Key Laboratory of Cities' Mitigation and Adaptation to Climate Change in Shanghai, China Meteorological Administration was launched by the end of 2014 with the support of CMA and Shanghai Meteorological Bureau.

Together, the two lay a firm foundation for building Xi'an Jiaotong University into a top-flight international university.

2. School of Electrical Engineering

School of Electrical Engineering in Xi'an Jiaotong University is one of the most important bases for talents training and research innovation in the field of electrical engineering.

The main disciplines of the school include state key discipline Electric Engineering, and other two first-level disciplines of Control Science and Engineering as well as Instrument Science and Technology. We have advanced research laboratories and teaching bases such as State Key Laboratory of Electrical Insulation and Power Equipment, and State Teaching Base for Electrical and Electronical Engineering Fundamental Courses. We also have various research centers approved by MOE, National Energy Administration, and Shaanxi Province.

The school has also been very active in international affairs. The school has held 3 top-level (e.g., IEEE) international conferences in the past, and held 6 other important international conferences in the past 5 years. In 2011, the school started to recruit international graduate students, coming from 12 countries including Italy, Germany and so on.
